ACCORDING to the new York Herald's Congressional classification Senator Hitchcock is an out-and-out third termer, while Congressman Crounse is classed among those who still remain on the fence touching this imaginary issue.

THE rigorous climate of the Sierras, and the more rigorous regulations of the Central Pacific, are producing a marked effect upon the monte fraternity that has of late infested that region. These migratory birds of prey are changing base, and we should not be in the least surprised at their appearance on their old stamping ground at this end of the trans continental line.

The telegraph brought the news that Joseph Weber, the swindler, had been pardoned by Governor SENATOR TIPTON is moving his family permanently from Washington to Brownville, and the Nemaha Granger expresses the opinion that it would be a rich joke on the Senator if the people should re-elect him, after he has made all his arrangements to live in Brownville. The BEE inclines to the opinion that Granny Tipton's re-election would has already cost this county some be a decidedly rich joke on the people, but from present appearances there is a much greater probability of his being struck by lightning in mid winter than of his re-election by the next legislature.

THE people are a power in Nemaha county. Our opponents sent out of the county, and even out of the State, for help, but that help could not save them. It is believed that the Republican State Committee sent $500 to defeat Church Howe.— Nemaha Granger.

This statement is just about as reliable as is the charge of the Omaha Herald that yoters were imported and colonized from Iowa by Republicans of Douglas county to beat the Democratic ticket. The Republican State Committee did not colleet or disburse five hundred dollars during the entire campaign. They did not even collect one-third of five hundred dollars, and we know that not one dollar was sent to Nemaha county to beat Church Howe, or for any other purpose.

THE exodus of the Pawnee tribe has cast a general gloom upon ca- pending against them in the criminineites of Schuyler. Our Schuyler contemporary, the Register, bemoans the new departure in the following pathetic strain:

Now the next question open for consideration, how can we keep them there, and how soon will their lands in the Loupe Valley be opened for the anxious and thrifty set-

OUR County Commissioners are still investing in wooden bridges, which, to say the least, the BEE considers decidedly poor economy. In the past ten years Douglas County has expended as much for reconstructing and repairing wooden bridges, than would have been the original cost of stone or iron bridges. Now we hope our County Commissloners will abandon the parsimonious economical policy that invaleading an army or heading a party this scion of the House of Bonaparte riably proves most expensive in the end.
